Among Malay Pirates : a Tale of Adventure and Peril G. A. Henty

"I wish most heartily that something would happen," Harry Parkhurst, a midshipman of some sixteen years of age, said to his chum, Dick Balderson, as they leaned on the rail of her majesty's gunboat Serpent, and looked gloomily at the turbid stream that rolled past the ship as she lay at anchor. "One day is just like another—one is in a state of perspiration from morning till night, and from night till morning. There seems to be always a mist upon the water; and if it were not that we get up steam every three or four days and run out for twenty-four hours for a breath of fresh air, I believe that we should be all eaten up with fever in no time. Of course, they are always talking of Malay pirates up the river kicking up a row; but it never seems to come off."

Carolyn Foley:

As a college student, I exactly feel bored to be able to read. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library in order to make a summary for some guide, they are complained. Just minor students that have reading as an internal or real pastime. They just do what the teacher wants, like asked to go to the library. They go there but nothing is read significantly. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring and can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Books are very important for you. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise, word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So, this Among Malay Pirates : a Tale of Adventure and Peril can make you truly feel more interested to read.
